

BUTLER BEFORE PROBERS SAYS BUDGET "FAIR"

Amount Necessary Depends On Campaign he Tells Committee

Chairman Disapproved Of
Grundy Letter and Quota
Set, He Says

Chicago, Oct. 18.—William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee, testified before the senate committee probing campaign expenditures that the campaign budget of the Republican party totals $3,000,000.

Butler said that of this sum $2,500,000 is to be used in the national campaign and the balance in the congressional and senatorial campaigns. He said he expected to collect the entire amount before election day.

The Republican chairman outlined in a general way how the money was to be expended. Senator Caraway of Arkansas asked him to explain how the $46,000 allotted to college clubs and the $30,000 allotted to the negroes' bureau was to be spent. Butler said that the money was to defray the expenses of getting out literature, speakers and similar activities.

Senator Caraway asked: "In your judgment, do you think it will take two or three million dollars to run the campaign?" "It makes all the difference in the world what kind of a campaign it is," Butler answered. Butler said he felt that was a fair amount for the conduct of this campaign.

Caraway then asked whether the proposal to raise $500,000 in Massachusetts, Butler's home state, met with his approval. "No, it does not," Butler replied. He explained the proposal to raise $500,000 in that state came from a manufacturer and did not meet with the approval of the national Republican committee. It was proposed to raise that sum from manufacturers of that state. The proposed $500,000 in Pennsylvania did not meet with his approval either. Butler replied in answer to a question from Borah.

Senator Shipstead, Farmer-Labor member of the senate committee, asked Butler whether there was anything to the report that the Republicans were raising huge sums of money to throw into certain states. "There's nothing to that," Butler answered.

Letter Disapproved.
Butler then stated that the letter sent out by J. R. Grundy of Bristol, Pa., to raise money did not meet with his approval. The proposal to raise $600,000 in the state was sanctioned, he said.

Butler was dismissed after promising Borah he would supply the committee with a detailed list of all contributions and expenditures within a few days.

George Barr Baker, head of the Republican publicity bureau, was then called and gave details on the expenditures of $437,000 by the bureau. The publicity expenditures through the Chicago office totaled $365,000 and the New York and Washington offices spent a total of $104,000 for publicity purposes, Baker said.

Borah asked Baker whether the total publicity expenditures by the end of the campaign would reach $600,000. "I think it will be under $550,000," Baker answered.

The senate committee was dismissed to meet again at the call of Chairman Borah.

Fireworks is expected when Frank P. Walsh of Kansas City, attorney for Senator La Follette, head of the Independent ticket, appears before the committee. La Follette charges the Republicans with raising a slush fund to "swing the election."

Independent national headquarters issued a statement charging that special efforts are being made in Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and Massachusetts "to raise the biggest slush fund ever used by the Republican party." A letter alleged to have been sent by George S. Ward, nationally known baker, to all bakers and heads of allied industries in New York state calling for contributions to be sent outside the state to places "where it is needed most" was contained in the statement.

CONVICTION IN GARY DRY LAW CASE UPHELD

Appeals Court Sustains Decision Involving
Fifty Two People

Chicago, Oct. 18.—The conviction of 50 men and women in the Gary (Ind.) dry law case was upheld here by the United States circuit court of appeals.

Defendants included Roswell Johnson, former mayor of Gary, Ind., and Louis Barnes, former sheriff of Lake county. They had been sentenced to from 10 days in jail to 18 months in a federal penitentiary and fines of $2,000, and these sentences were confirmed by the court of appeals.

The court held that the defendants had substituted for prohibition a system of license that protected them from conviction. Thirty days are now given the defendants to appeal from the decision. If no appeal is made the mandate for the commitment automatically issues.

All of the defendants in the Gary liquor conspiracy case were sentenced in federal court at Indianapolis on April 28, 1923, by Judge Ferdinand Geiger of Milwaukee, who was assigned to hear the case after a number of the men involved had asked for a change of venue from Judge Albert B. Anderson, the Indiana district federal judge.

The case grew out of the Agnes Szabo, "queen of the bootleggers," trial in 1921, when Herman J. Nyhoff and Daniel Melloy, deputy constables, testified that "a system existed in Lake county by which whisky, confiscated from bootleggers," was divided among the officers of the law or sold and the money divided. Following the conviction of the "queen of the bootleggers" and the two constables, Judge Anderson ordered an investigation of the charges made by Nyhoff and Melloy.

First arrests in the conspiracy came in the fall of 1922, when William M. Dunn, city judge at that time, and Blaz Lucas, an attorney, were apprehended by the federal officers. Then came a series of arrests, which included Johnson, Barnes, Dwight M. Kinder, prosecuting attorney of Lake county, and nearly 60 other defendants.

MAN KILLED WHEN RELATIVES BATTLE

Akron, O., Oct. 18.—Carl Trischardi, 23, was shot to death shortly after midnight Friday after a quarrel with relatives over two barrels of wine he had made and part ownership in which was claimed by others.

Police were not informed of the affair till early this morning, and Detective Patsy Papano, who is in charge of the case, claims the slayer is in Cleveland.

"He was to leave for Cleveland this morning," Papano said. Trischardi's mother and his stepfather who lived at the same address, have left the city. There were several persons in the house at the time of the shooting and police have not indicated which is under suspicion.

The man's widow and a cousin are held as material witnesses.

Officer May Die—Pair
Was Being Arrested
For Speeding

Cleveland, O., Oct. 18.—While Patrolman Michael Hahnel, 28, of Shaker Heights village, a suburb, was fighting gamely for his life, police today had broadcast the descriptions of two men, riding in a stolen automobile, who late last night shot Hahnel, when he placed them under arrest for a traffic violation, threw his body from the machine, in a secluded spot, and fled.

Hahnel, a bullet wound in his abdomen, has but slight chance for life, hospital authorities said today.

The men sought are believed to have been gas station bandits, who have held up many stations in the vicinity of Cleveland recently. Just before midnight last night, they were driving at a speed reported in excess of fifty miles an hour on a boulevard in the exclusive residential suburbs, and narrowly missed running down Hahnel and a fellow officer engaged in putting traffic signs on the street. Hahnel ordered them to halt, and when they complied, jumped in the machine with them, telling them to drive to police station. They turned and started back and as the car sped along, one of the bandits, pulled a gun and shot Hahnel in the stomach. When they came to a dark place in the road, Hahnel's body was thrown from the machine where it was found a few minutes later by a passerby.

Hahnel barely conscious, gave the license number of the car Ohio 518-712, a gray seven passenger Peerless, owned by John P. Johnson, of Medina and recently stolen.

He was taken to a hospital where surgeons, feared to probe for the bullet, believing it was lodged in his stomach. Blood transfusion was resorted to in an effort to save his life.

Meagre descriptions of the two men were furnished by Hahnel and his fellow officer. One man was described as being about thirty years of age, five feet eight inches tall, light complexion, weight 130 pounds. He wore a dark suit and cap.

His companion was about five feet six inches tall and weighed about 120 pounds. His complexion is dark and he was wearing a dark suit. The case closely resembles that of Patrolman Dennis Griffin, of the Cleveland police force, murdered in an auto by John Leonard Whitfield, now serving a life term in the Ohio penitentiary.

The car in which the bandits were riding was found abandoned today at 61st and Euclid. The gas tank was empty, and police here redoubled their search of houses in that vicinity in the hope of finding some trace of the men sought.

FRANCE BOWED IN GRIEF WHILE BODY OF GREATEST NOVELIST IS LAID TO REST

Paris, Oct. 18.—France bowed her head reverently today as the body of her master of letters, who had taken the name of his country for his own—Anatole France—was laid to rest in Neuilly cemetery.

It was a demonstration of sorrow eclipsing that attending the funeral of the beloved Sarah Bernhardt. Hundreds of thousands—nobles, intellectuals and thousands of plain Parisians, whose names would mean nothing but who learned to love the venerable author, whose pen dipped acid or oil—the streets in the clear autumn sunshine of a beautiful Saturday afternoon.

Paris has seen no such crowd since Marshal Foch passed through the Arch of Triumph in the tremendous homecoming of July 1919.

Tax Exempt Securities Threaten U.S. Revenue

Washington, Oct. 18.—Tax exempt securities, the hiding place of great wealth, have increased in value nearly a billion dollars in the last 30 days and there are now nearly $13,000,000,000 of this type of bonds outstanding, it was revealed at the treasury department today.

Prohibition of the curbing of this class of investment was the cause of a hectic fight in the last congress. The enormous increase in the bonds outstanding since then, makes it certain that the next congress, meeting in December, will be called upon to renew the battle.

At the time of the last fight, treasury officials estimated the total amount of tax exempt securities at around $10,000,000,000.

Some reform in this matter is necessary if the income taxes are not to be increased in the lower brackets. Under Secretary of the Treasury asserted today. Returns from larger incomes are steadily decreasing, he said because of high surtaxes and the easy escape for great wealth offered by the tax exempt investment field.

Treasury officials lay the blame for increase in tax exempt bonds on the high surtaxes retained in the 1924 revenue bill in that bill, Secretary Mellon contended unsuccessfully for a maximum surtax of 25 per cent as compared with the 50 per cent in the law, and a compromise finally reached which fixed the present rate at 37 1/2 per cent.

A material decrease in revenue has likewise been the result of high rate of inheritance taxes, Winston said. In the past four years, according to Winston, the 25 per cent inheritance rate has caused a reduction of revenue from this source by one third.

A continuance of the trend thus disclosed, with an acceleration by reason of the increase in the maximum rate from 25 to 40 per cent will soon eliminate this source of revenue," Winston said.

He added that the various states would suffer similarly and predicted they might have to resort to higher direct taxation.

SHENANDOAH IS AT END OF TRIP AT CAMP LEWIS

Big Dirigible Successful
After Battle With Strong Winds

Camp Lewis, Washington, Oct. 18.—A huge blur in the drifting mist and fog, the navy dirigible Shenandoah was early today rapidly gliding to her mooring mast here, the western goal of the giant airliner's maiden transcontinental flight.

The Shenandoah was expected to arrive here shortly after six o'clock, having neared the Oregon-Washington state line at 5:30 o'clock this morning. For more than 30 hours the dirigible had battled against stiff winds, subjecting herself to the severest tests, as she proceeded slowly up the Pacific coast, moving at a rate equal only to that of the average passenger train.

The constant fight of the dirigible against some of the stiffest winds she has ever faced, proved a huge drain against the ship's gasoline supply and the Shenandoah was expected to reach here with her fuel supply, taken aboard at San Diego, California, her last stopping place, reduced to the danger point.

San Francisco, Oct. 18.—Nearing Camp Lewis, Washington, far western goal of her transcontinental trip the navy dirigible Shenandoah was reported to have passed Salem, Oregon, shortly after 4 o'clock this morning.

TRUAX EXPLAINS OHIO FAIR DEFICIT

Columbus, Oct. 18.—Charles V. Truax, state director of agriculture, in a statement aimed at a recent attack on the financial success of the last state fair, declared that although there is a deficit of $17,000 between receipts and expenditures there were 9,000 fewer free passes issued than during the fair of 1922, held under the Davis administration. In regard to the alleged deficit, the director said in his statement:

"It is true a deficit was incurred, as happened with respect to state fairs under Governors Davis, Cox, Willis and others. Expenditures exceeded appropriations for state fair purposes by $21,000 this year, by $5,000 in 1923; by $15,000 in 1922 (the Davis fair); by $11,000 in 1920. Expenditures exceeded state fair receipts by $17,000 this year, by $17,000 in 1923, and by $37,000 in 1922 (the Davis fair)."

The deficit this year was attributed by Truax to the extensive building program.

OIL LEASE CASE TO GO TO TRIAL IN LOS ANGELES

Case Will Start Monday—
Pomerene Arrives To Prosecute Case

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 18.—The first of the oil lease cases will go to trial here next Monday.

Former Senator Atlee Pomerene arrived here from Washington prepared for the opening of the government's suit to annul Elk Hill oil leases given to the Pan-American Petroleum company. With Pomerene, who is in charge of the government's side of the case, are Owen J. Roberts, A. J. Schneider, Lowell Turrentine and George Chandler, his assistants. Pomerene had planned a conference with United States District Attorney Joe Burke, but this was impossible because of Burke's absence from the city.

An estimated amount of $100,000,000 is involved in the litigation, which centers around charges that Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, conspired with E. L. Donahey to defraud the United States.

The defense will contend that the Elk Hill lease was a profitable one for the government. It also will seek to show that the 30,000 acre lease of the Donahey company will be robbed of its value through offset drilling if the government keeps the oil in underground storage.

Sixty witnesses, including Theodore Roosevelt candidate for governor of New York, and Edwin Denby, former secretary of the navy, are expected here to testify.

C., Oct. 18.—President Calvin Coolidge this afternoon received a telegram from Henry Ford announcing the withdrawal of his $5,000,000 offer for the government's nitrate properties at Muscle Shoals, Ala., which was unofficially announced a week ago. At that time Ford is alleged to have said that business could not wait on politics.

LABOR HEADS TO TAKE UP MATTER WITH MEXICANS

Will Ask Aid to Halt Rush of Aliens Over Southern Border.

Dope Smuggling Also To Be Given Attention It
Is Said.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Alarmed at the ever increasing number of aliens who are being smuggled into the United States from Mexico, the administration is planning to take up the matter with the Mexican authorities, it was learned today.

Edward J. Long, assistant secretary of labor, who is in charge of immigration matters, plans to hold a series of conferences with Mexican officials in Mexico City during November and will endeavor to enlist the aid of the Mexican government in curbing the "bootlegging" of aliens across the border.

It was estimated that thousands of aliens cross the border every year in defiance of the immigration laws.

Dope smugglers also manage to evade the meagre custom that has been thrown along the Mexican border by the labor department, the extensive length of the border making it comparatively easy for them to ply their illicit trade.

Officials of the labor department admitted that despite the utmost efforts to stem the tide of aliens filtering across the border, thousands manage annually to smuggle themselves into this country.

DONAHEY REPLIES TO ATTACKS MADE ON PAROLE RECORD

Columbus, Oct. 18.—Replying to an attack made upon his pardon and parole record, Governor Donahey issued a statement declaring "it is easy to criticize prison officials." Stating he was glad Harry L. Davis had raised the issue, Donahey added that his interest comes a little late, as the problem should "have been given a little more attention by him when he was governor."

The trouble with Davis, the governor said, "is that early in his administration he permitted himself rather willingly to be swept into the granting of an indefensible political pardon, that given to Steve Pentecost of Cincinnati." The governor then reviewed the Pentecost case, and declared that "this one sad experience of my predecessor embittered him, hardened his heart and filled him with fear to the extent that in subsequent cases he frequently ignored the joint pleas of judge, prosecutor and the board of pardon and parole for men wrongfully serving in the penitentiary."

One such case, Governor Donahey said, has been made an issue in the present campaign, that of Arthur Carver of Scioto county, sentenced to life imprisonment. The governor declared that Mrs. Elizabeth Clark, a member of the pardon and parole board under Governor Davis, urged him to pardon Carver and now is condemning Donahey for granting the pardon.

"IT IS COOLIDGE OR CHAOS" SAYS SENATOR FESS WHILE PREDICTING REPUBLICAN VICTORY IN ADDRESS

The election of Coolidge by "a majority second only to that given Harding" was predicted by United States Senator S. D. Fess in a speech at the Opera House here Friday afternoon.

It was the only speech he will make to the people of his home county during the campaign and a large crowd greeted him.

"It is Coolidge or chaos and it will be Coolidge," said Senator Fess.

He predicted that Coolidge's vote in the electoral college will be 331, or 65 more than the necessary majority, while he concedes John W. Davis 178 and La Follette 22.

"Calvin Coolidge has a hold on the American people such as no president has had since the Civil War, when Lincoln was the idol of the country. The American people regardless of political difference admire such a character as Coolidge," he declared.

Senator Fess laid particular stress in his speech on the foreign policy of this government and the campaign of economy which has prevailed in the Harding and Coolidge administrations. "This program of economy he declared if it were allowed to continue uninterrupted, would permit the public debt to be paid off in twenty-five years."

Paying a tribute to John W. Davis as a man, Senator Fess declared that the Democratic nominee is saying things now "which don't sound like the John W. Davis I knew in congress."

"I couldn't say anything unkind about Davis. I served with him in the lower house when I first entered Congress. There is no gain-saying that he's capable. He's able. I always have believed he is clean minded. But I'll confess that he is saying things now that don't sound like the John W. Davis I knew. If he keeps on I will have to change my opinion about him."

He refuted Davis' charges that the Fordney tariff bill is costing the country $6,000,000 yearly and declared that if he investigated he would find that under the protective tariff this country does $6,000,000,000 worth more business than under a free tariff.

Taking up Davis' statement that this government has "no foreign policy," and that if elected he would lead the country into the League of Nations, where this government would "sit as an equal with other countries," and not sneak around and peep in keyholes," Senator Fess called attention to the condition of world problems that this country inherited, and said:

"There isn't a single dispute on the Western continent that has been adjusted, that hasn't been done so with American approval and with American rights intact." He declared that for the first time in history a treaty has been made with Mexico by which the rights of Americans in that country are protected, and recounted the adjustments that have been made settling disputes in certain South American and Central American Republics.

Touching upon the limitations of armaments conference called by President Harding he declared that it was the greatest step toward peace that has been taken in the history of the world.

"Not until Europe accepted the American proposals made by Charles Evans Hughes, and the reparations plan written by Charles G. Dawes, did after six years of darkness, light begin to shine through the chaos into which it was plunged, and yet, the Democratic nominee says this government has no foreign policy."

"The greatest thing of all," said the senator, "is that everything has been done without involving ourselves, and we are just as free from Old World entanglements as ever. Americans will always co-operate with the Old World, and when America sits with European nations it is always as an equal. No man can lead America into the meshes of Old World entanglements."

Touching upon the third party's attack upon the constitution by the threat of abridging the power of the Supreme Court, which had been discussed more fully by President W. R. McChesney of Cedarville College in a prior talk, Senator Fess stated such an amendment to the constitution as the third party proposes would not only be "fatal to the liberties guaranteed under the constitution but the most fallacious proposal ever made."

Opening his talk, Senator Fess said that he was gratified at the size of the meeting and pleased to be able to sit in a political meeting where it did not seem irreconcilable with the object of the meeting to have it opened with prayer. He also paid a high tribute to President McChesney of Cedarville College, who preceded him. He painted a word picture of the little home in the village of Plymouth, Vt., where President Coolidge spent his early life, of his visit with Col. John Coolidge in that home, of a trip to the cemetery where three generations of the Coolidge family rest. He pictured the scene in that village of twenty-nine inhabitants where by the light of a kerosene lamp at 2 o'clock in the morning Calvin Coolidge read the telegram announcing the death of President Harding and took the oath of the president administered by his father the justice of the peace.

Senator Fess said that he would speak Monday afternoon in Lowell, Mass., in Lawrence, Mass., Monday night and fill other engagements in the East.

President W. R. McChesney of Cedarville made his maiden political speech at Friday's meeting. He dwelt chiefly upon the third party's attempt to break down the constitution, and appealed for the protection of the constitution by the voting of the straight Republican ticket. "The Republican party stands for a maintenance of the principles upon which this government was founded. Stand with it in its defense of the constitution now being attacked," he appealed.

Attorney General C. C. Crabbe, who was to speak, did not arrive and it is believed that a confusion in dates was the cause.

L. T. Marshall, chairman of the Greene County Executive Committee, presided at the meeting, which was opened with prayer by the Rev. V. F. Brown.

FANNING DELIGHTS LARGE AUDIENCE IN HIS SECOND CONCERT

Greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience, Cecil Fanning, Columbus, famous baritone, and his accompanist, Harry Brown Turpin, of Dayton, gave their second concert in Xenia Friday night.

As in the initial appearance of these artists here a year ago, the concert was a splendid success and every number was enthusiastically received from the opening until the last tender notes of Paul Lawrence Dunbar's "Lazy Song," in the final encore.

As always generous with encores, Mr. Fanning sang by request several numbers he had given at his concert here last year. Joyce Kilmer's "Trees," "All For You," and the "Lazy Song" were repeated by request. "Mother Machree," "The Kerm Dance" and "Le Cycle du Vin" were requested numbers on the program.

As an encore Mr. Fanning also sang Schubert's "Ave Maria" in English, his rich flowing voice in this magnificent number making the song in reality a prayer.

Mr. Fanning sang in French, German, Italian and English with equally fine enunciation and dramatic power, but all the encores were in English. The first group consisted of three arias from operas, representing three periods of Opera. The first was from "Richard Coeur de Lion," (Gretry), the second the air from Tannhauser introduction to Act three and the last from Verdi's "Ernani."

The second comprised four German numbers, two Schubert and two Schumann. "Du bist die Ruh," and "Am Feilerabend," by Schubert; "Ich Grolle Nicht," and "Aufreage," by Schumann. The singer prefaced 17 foreign language numbers and the Loewe number "Archibald Douglass" with with synopsis of the stories told in the songs.

Although the singing of "Archibald Douglass" occupied about fourteen minutes, the ballad was rendered with such power, dramatic force and feeling that his audience did not notice the length of time taken in its rendition.

While singing a group of three Breton songs the singer wore a French working man's smock which he brought from Brittany where he learned the traditional songs of that simple folk. "Un Mouvement de Curiosite," "Le Roi a fait battre Tambour" and "Le Cycle du Vin" were the Breton songs, all sung with the accompaniment of the fine dramatic ability for which Fanning is known.

Four modern songs, "Michaelmas Daises," written for Mr. Fanning by Irene Berge, "Joy of the Morning," "Honey-suckle Babe," and Francesco de Leone's "March Call" concluded the program.

Mr. Fanning has a natural bent for acting which becomes a charming part of his work and makes his interpretation of the various songs unique to himself. Much of the success of the concert was due to the sympathetic and understanding way in which the accom-

DEFENSE RALLY IS PLANNED BY LEAGUE

Washington, Oct. 18.—The Navy League of the United States, which originated Navy day in 1922, is the chief sponsor for another nationwide defense rally to be staged Oct. 27, when the country celebrates its third annual Navy day. The sea-fighting wing of the service, not to be outdone by the army, which led the defense test on Sept. 12, has secured the co-operation of President Coolidge, the secretary of the navy, governors of states and leading patriotic and fraternal societies to make the observance a success in every state in the Union.

In cities where there are no league chapter, the American Legion is taking the initiative in securing a full turnout of chambers of commerce and business clubs. Participation by the women of the land will be the special responsibility of the Daughters of the American Revolution, whose organization is being extended into the smallest hamlets.

To License Auto. Drivers.

Columbus, Oct. 18.—A special study of a proposal to license auto drivers in Ohio is being made by the Ohio State Automobile association, President H. Caley announced. He said the legislative committee of the association will investigate the question thoroughly and probably submit the result of its findings to the legislature. To take the reckless and drunken driver from the road, Caley said, the association favors some restrictive law, but not one which would take the right to the use of his property from the ordinary driver.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Oct. 18.—Charges made by T. V. O'Connor, chairman of the shipping board, that money is being sent from Russia through Mexico to help the La Follette-Wheeler ticket were denied here by Senator La Follette. "So far as campaign contributions or sources of party funds are concerned, I have absolute knowledge and I emphatically deny O'Connor's statement," La Follette declared. "I denounce it as a wilful and malicious campaign lie. It is of a piece with other loose and untruthful statements made by desperate Coolidge henchmen."

La Follette said he had telegraphed Frank P. Walsh, his representative, before the senate committee investigating campaign expenditures at Chicago requesting that he have O'Connor subpoenaed and placed under oath before the committee.

New Gas Rate Schedules Filed.

Columbus, Oct. 18.—Fifty-one Ohio towns and cities and eight rural divisions are affected by the proposed new gas rate schedules filed with the state public utilities commission by the Logan Gas company. The proposed schedules do not ask to change the gas rate per cubic foot, but would substitute for a minimum charge of 90 cents now in effect, a flat service charge of 75 cents. If allowed the new schedules will abandon the present minimum charge. No reasons for the proposed change are set forth by the gas company.

Mrs. J. E. Kohl of North Detroit Street has returned from an extensive trip through California. She has been gone for about three months. Mr. Kohl has returned from Chicago where he met his wife and accompanied her home.

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture

The dawn of a new day is breaking for babyhood. The public is being slowly convinced that it is better to form than reform. It is being impressed with the relation of sin and crime to physical ignorance and degeneracy, and is realizing that we can never hope to close our jails and reformatories till the reformer directs his efforts toward strengthening the child physically as well as morally.

Let all of us help to speed the day when the importance of childhood shall be recognized—when the mist of ignorance shall be dispersed by the sunlight of truth, and we shall vouchsafe to the divine human infant the same opportunity for unimpeded growth as is enjoyed by the young of the lower animals.

The influence of environment upon baby's mental and physical being is of very great importance. The little one is a sort of mirror which, more or less faithfully, reflects its surroundings. In the case of the real mirror, however, the reflection is only of a passing nature, waxes with the baby, the things outside of itself that it sees or hears or feels become permanent impressions. The distinction between the bright, jolly, healthy infant and the apathetic, gloomy, sickly one, will, on inquiry, often be found to be that of cheerful parents and a sunlit home on the one hand, and a surly father, a cross mother and airless, dim apartments on the other.

Parents, or a good many of them at least, overlook the fact that babyhood is the one period when the mobile human material can be moulded at will into shapes of beauty or of ugliness. They too often fail to realize that for this reason, everything with which the little one comes in contact tends to further its advancement or hasten its retrogression.

Its senses serve for one of two things—they either convey to its awakening brain impressions that please and soothe, or impressions that annoy and irritate. Remembering that a baby's senses are for the time being acting as its reason and conscience, does it not follow that we should do our utmost to gratify those senses by permitting them to come in contact only with things wholesome and beautiful?

HARPER-HORTON NUPTIALS CELEBRATED

In the presence of a company of forty guests, Miss Ruth Anna Harper, daughter of Mr. William Harper, became the bride of Mr. Wayne W. Horton of Painesville, the nuptials being celebrated a half after two o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Harper home on North Detroit Street.

The Rev. Charles P. Proudfit of the Second United Presbyterian Church, the bride's pastor, officiated, using the single ring service.

Bright hued autumn leaves were entwined in the balustrade of the stairway which the bridal party descended, and near which the service was read. Columbia roses were used about the living room.

Preceding the hour set for the service, Miss Mary Agnes Harper of Spring Valley, a cousin of the bride, sang two numbers, "Until" and "All for You." Miss Madge McKeever, who was at the piano, played the wedding march from Lohengrin while members of the bridal party descended the stairway and during the service "To a Wild Rose", very softly.

Mrs. James Wagner (Margaret Harper) the bride's sister, was her maid, and she led the bridal party wearing an attractive frock of moss green crepe, and carrying a bouquet of Butterflies roses.

The bride's gown was of white georgette crepe, with all over lace, and she carried a shower of Columbia roses. Mr. Horton and his best man, Mr. James Wagner, awaited the bride and her attendant at the foot of the stairway.

A two course luncheon followed the service. Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Horton started for Painesville, where they will be at home. They expect to delay their honeymoon trip until January when they will spend a month in Florida. Mr. Horton wore a travelling frock in log cabin shade with accessories to match and her coat was trimmed in brown squirrel.

Mrs. Horton is a graduate of Xenia High School and Miami University and has been a member of the faculty of the Painesville High School. Mr. Horton is in business as a nurseryman in Painesville.

TUTTLE-CALVERT WEDDING CELEBRATED

The marriage of Miss Ruth Tuttle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Tuttle, to Mr. Leland S. Calvert of Selma was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, 1511 South Fountain Avenue Springfield at 3:30 Thursday afternoon. The Rev. Charles Ryan Adams, pastor of the Covenant Presbyterian Church officiated.

Mrs. Rudolph Corwin, harpist, gave a program of nuptial music preceding the appointed hour. "To a Wild Rose" was played softly during the plighting of the troth.

As the wedding march from Lohengrin was played the bridegroom and bride approached the improved altar in the living room, formed by baskets of yellow chrysanthemums with tall cathedral candles glowing at either side.

The bride's gown was of yellow georgette crepe. Her picture hat was of the same material, and she wore gold cloth slippers. She carried Ophelia roses.

A large wedding cake centered the bride's table which was attractive in its decorations of roses and white candles.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvert are on a honeymoon trip, the bride travelling in a frock of penny brown, with brown hat and footwear.

The bride is a graduate of Wittenberg College and is a member of the Alpha Delta Sorority.

She has Xenia relatives and has often visited here as the guest of her cousin, Mrs. George P. Tiffany. Mr. and Mrs. Tiffany attended the wedding.

Mr. Calvert is the son of Representative of Clark County 7890X. He is a native of Clark County and Mrs. Calvert. He is an Earlham College man and is engaged in the dairy business at Selma where the young couple will live on a farm.

FELT LONELY AND GAVE UP HIS POLITICAL HONORS AND EVEN HIS LIFE

While dozens of men will be earnestly striving during the next few weeks to attain the enviable position of representing their State in the United States Senate, one Senator who had two years of his last term to serve, Senator Brandegee, Connecticut, held the honor of the position so lightly that he cared not for it or even for life. He was serving his third term as Senator.

Senator Frank B. Brandegee, Republican, stalwart and uncompromising old guard, is dead—a suicide by inhaling gas.

He ended his life early this week in his home in Washington, and gave social and political Washington a profound shock in the tragic circumstances of his passing.

Alone in the great somber house, living the life almost of a recluse, he had watched his modest fortune crumble because of unfortunate real estate ventures.

He had seen all his close relatives die. He had felt his own health rapidly failing. Only a few persons were aware of Senator Brandegee's financial embarrassment. The first suggestion of it came from Secretary of War Weeks, another of the Senator's friends. It was generally known that he had made considerable money in profitable investments in Washington real estate during the last few years, but few knew he had suffered severe reverses in recent months.

Senator Brandegee's nearest relative is Colonel M. G. Zalinski, depot quartermaster at Atlanta. President Coolidge sent the following telegram to him soon after he learned of Senator Brandegee's death:

"The loss of Senator Brandegee is a deep grief to all of us who have been associated with him. He had been one of the active and energetic leaders of the Senate for years and one of the prominent men of Connecticut for a long time. He had a high appreciation of the requirements of public service. He was a faithful friend and a most industrious and painstaking legislator. I wish to express to you my sincere sympathy."

The country little knew how much Senator Brandegee had to do with the rejection of the Versailles treaty. Those best acquainted with the circumstances of the defeat of the pact generally credit him with being the "master mind" in the strategy that caused a Senate strongly predisposed in favor of the treaty to vote it down.

While Senator Borah was thundering his denunciation of the League from the rostrum, Senator Brandegee was quietly at work devising nullifying reservations which made it impossible for the Democrats, under the party lash of Woodrow Wilson, to vote for ratification.

Senator Brandegee was sixty years old. He never married. His only sister died several years ago. He was one of the oldest members of the Senate in term of continuous service.

COOLIDGE VS BRYAN THE REAL ISSUE

Indianapolis on Monday night heard one of the notable speeches of this campaign. Secretary Hughes laid before the Corn Belt voters the actual political situation as it exists in mid-October. He sets forth to the Indians and the Nation the alternatives we face at the November election. As frankly as it was possible to do so he has shown the country just what it must choose between on November 4.

His analysis reveals that no President will be elected on that day unless Calvin Coolidge is elected. He restated what has become the fixed conviction of men in all parties; that the one way to avoid political chaos, national confusion and a deadlocked Government is to keep Coolidge in the White House.

For outside the Old South, with its 16 electoral votes the Border States and a half-dozen others East and West, the Democratic campaign is shattered. John W. Davis has little chance for election. Treachery surrounds him. Governor Bryan, his ticket mate, carries on a strange campaign, aimed, it seems at placing himself in the White House if the election is deadlocked. A political miracle is the only hope for Davis, as Secretary Hughes sees it.—Public Ledger.

THE FRENCH WORKING AND PROSPEROUS

Great Britain is amazed as well as concerned about the new prosperity of France. French exports now exceed prewar figures. French population has increased to 40,000,000. The devastated regions have been restored almost to their old productivity. About 80 per cent of the destroyed factories have been rebuilt. France has increased her shipping. She is selling textiles in Great Britain. There are weeks when she has no more than 400 unemployed workers in all of France. Great Britain has about 1,100,000 jobless. The British are amazed at French competition in shipbuilding, shipping and the steel and iron industries. They need not be. While British labor sat in the parks and loafed in the streets demanding him wages and living on the unemployment dole when it could not get them, Frenchmen went to work. They worked for what they could get. Now they are prosperous. If Great Britain had more workers and fewer agitators and congenial loafers she would not be worrying quite so much about her foreign markets.

CONSOLATION

Where there's neither hurt nor pain
God has taken him again.

Where no fever burns the brow
God is cherishing him now.

Where no bypath leads astray
God is guiding him today.

God is keeping him for you
Where no enemies pursue.

Never shall he weep nor sigh,
Never fear again to die.

God has spared him all the care
Those of us who live must bear.

Did you wonder years ago
How he came to love you so?

Years ago, did you not say
You would hear his voice some day?

Then you never held a doubt
That his love would seek you out.

Out of all the throng, you knew
God would send him down to you.

It may be in heaven that birth

Is what men call death on earth.

And what men call death, we'll learn
Is the spirit's glad return.

Brave the loneliness and pain
You shall have his love again.

FEW ABSENT VOTERS' BALLOTS ARE USED

Less than the usual number of absent voters' ballots are being made use of each day, according to Earl Short, clerk of the election board, who declared that a total of thirty-five ballots have been mailed to various citizens who will be absent at the time of the November election, while but three citizens have called at the clerk's office for the slips.

Voters may either apply for the ballots through mail, giving their residence and present address, or call at the clerk's office in the Court House for the slips, but must have their applications either in the mail or in the hands of Mr. Short by Saturday evening, November 1, in order to exercise their right to use the absent ballots.

Mrs. Gowdy Williamson, was the first woman in Greene County to cast her vote.

THE MODERN "JUDGMENT OF PARIS"

1904-Twenty Years Ago-1924

The Liberty Bell is to be exhibited in Xenia, Friday, Nov. 18, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. It will probably be brought up into the city near the Court House, the train being switched onto the Springfield track, where it was exhibited some years ago, when the bell was being taken from the Chicago fair and exhibited in Xenia.

The Greene County stock men who have been at St. Louis, at the World's Fair, where they have had stock exhibits returned home and are all well pleased with the result of the show of their stock.

The famous Roney Boy's Concert Company opens the Star Course on next Friday evening. Mr. Hugh McFadden, who until recently was proprietor of the barber shop at the National Billiard Hall, has accepted a position at Frank Hunt's barber shop.

The Independents of Xenia will play a foot ball game with Cedarville College on the latter's grounds next Saturday.

From time to time I receive letters from my Reader Friends asking me how to mend broken glass and china. Generally the piece broken is some valued heirloom or some modern article to which sentiment is attached. It is a mistake to regard such breaking as irreparable. The following information will tell you how to repair the damage so that it will be scarcely noticeable.

To Mend Glass: Ordinary Water Glass (Sodium Silicate) is an excellent transparent cement for glassware. Buy it at a drugstore and use it just as it comes in the bottle. Before applying it, make sure that the edges of the glass are clean and dry. Put it on with a small brush, running the brush along both broken edges. Then fit the edges together and hold firmly for several minutes before setting the piece away in a safe place till the cement is hard.

Many housewives, however, prefer to make their own glass cement with white shellac and alcohol. They take about an ounce of the white shellac and dissolve it in enough alcohol to make a substance the consistency of molasses; they apply this cement to both broken edges of the glass with a small brush and press tightly together as above described. This cement, like the Water Glass, will mend a glass article strong enough to resist ordinary wear and cold water, but not strongly enough to resist hot water.

To Mend China: Buy at a paint shop a small amount of ordinary white lead ground in oil. Apply this with your fingers to the clean, dry edges of the broken china and hold together firmly for a few moments, then fasten the parts securely with adhesive tape (this tape can be soaked off, later on, and the cement will be hard. If desired, you can use rubber bands or with alcohol). Let stand several days string to hold the parts together, rather than the adhesive tape. By this method, you will find that some of the white lead has been squeezed out of the break; but this may be removed with a small file, when dry.

To Mend Pottery or Coarse Crockery: Coat both edges thickly with white of egg, sprinkle with dry plaster of Paris, and hold tightly together.

MIXED MATCH AT HAMILTON FOR NEXT WEEK

Hamilton, O., Oct. 18.—Tiger Flowers of Atlanta, Ga., acknowledged uncrowned middleweight champion and Joe Lohman, of Toledo, have been signed for a twelve round bout, to be staged at Moose Hall in this city, Thursday night, October 23.

All arrangements for the show were completed today when the boxing commission approved the mixed match. It is the first time in the history of the Ohio Boxing Commission that a mixed match was approved, for this city. Tiger Flowers showed in his event with Harry Greb at Fremont last August that he is one of the topnotchers of the game and a gentleman when it comes to boxing. For this reason the Ohio Boxing Commission approved his meeting with Lohman, a white man.

Joe Lohman, conqueror of Floyd Johnston, the Iowa farmer who made it interesting for Firpo, Willis and others, has been making it plenty tough for the opposition and there are many who believe he is just the type of fighter to give Flowers plenty of trouble.

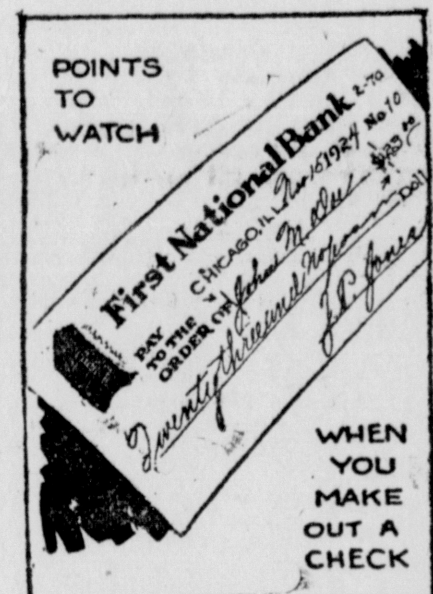

The fight is one of the biggest ever attempted in this section of the country and no doubt the Moose Hall, with a seating capacity of 3500 will be taxed to the limit to accommodate the fans from this and surrounding cities next Thursday.

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

Failure to take sensible precautions in writing checks causes men and businesses huge money losses every year.

The next time you receive a check or make one out, see whether it is made out in such a way that it will give a check raiser the maximum of trouble in an effort to raise it.

In making out your checks, use one of the various "safety papers" if possible. This will reduce the probability of loss through forging and check raising, but it is not infallible.

In making out any sort of check, write in the name of the payee flush with the words, "pay to the order of," or at least at the beginning of the line, if "pay to the order of" is on a line by itself. Where the amount is written out, write the amount flush with the left side of the line and draw a line completely out to the word "dollars." Where the amount is put in after the conventional dollar sign, make the figures flush with the dollar sign, thus: $23.45, not $ 23.45, as the latter case would give a check raiser an easy chance to make the check $923.45.

WHO IS RIGHT?

The one great danger to democracy is its tendency toward more and more laws and a multiplicity of law makers and bosses.

The freest nation is the one that is the least held in restraint, but with the maximum of self-respect inbred.

And self-respect, to my notion, is what makes up the strong individual.

The self-respecting man or woman knows few laws and those known bother them not at all.

The less one is restrained the more is individually brought out and made to grow. Expression becomes spontaneous and the generous heart opens all its doors and lifts all its shades.

In such a state the question of right in the minds of self-respecting people is clearest, because every man and woman at once is affected by the wrongdoing or breach of thoughtfulness on the part of the humblest human.

But with the air full of don'ts and can'ts each of us ask: "Who is right?"

I have always felt that he is nearest the right who feels the most right. Our entire being reacts to any unharmonious influence. It is like the false note in the playing of a great orchestra.

Every wholesome, healthy human knows when he is right. He does not need to be told. It is not a truth that

SUFFERED SINCE YOUNG GIRL

Words Failed to Express Benefit Received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Greenville, Texas.—"Words cannot express how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. Every month I would have cramps and headache, and I felt like I was freezing to death. I suffered in this way from the time I was a young girl, and all the doctors said was 'operation.' For months I had a tired, sleepy feeling all day, and when night would come I would be so nervous I couldn't stay in bed. Our druggist recommended the Vegetable Compound to my husband and he bought four bottles. I have taken every one and I think I have a right to praise your medicine."—Mrs. J. B. HOLLEMAN, 2214 E. Marshall Street, Greenville, Texas.

For fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been used by women from girlhood through middle age.

It is a dependable medicine for troubles common to women. Such symptoms as Mrs. Holleman had are relieved by correcting the cause of the trouble. For sale by druggists everywhere.

MANY CANDIDATES WILL ATTEND PARTY DINNER THURSDAY

Republican enthusiasm is mounting higher and higher as the banquet for Republican Workers' draws near.

The banquet will be held Thursday evening at the Knights of Pythias dining hall, and it is assured that many eminent state personages will be present, as acceptances have already been received from Joseph Tracy, auditor of state, Thad Brown, secretary of state, and Charles H. Lewis, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, with the possibility that Attorney General C. C. Crabbe will also be present, according to an announcement Saturday by P. H. Creswell, chairman of the Banquet Committee.

Major Charles W. Montgomery, former chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, will deliver the main address of the evening, with the aim of arousing party enthusiasm, and asking for party co-ordination.

Mrs. William Rockel, of Springfield, state executive committee member from the Seventh Congressional District will direct her talk mainly to the women present.

Dr. W. R. McChesney, president of Cedarville College, has also consented to attend the rally and give a talk on national issues. Dr. McChesney has entered politics in a small way for the first time in his career, this year, and as he is a resident of Greene County, his talk against the third party movement and other national affairs is being awaited with high interest by Greene County Republicans.

Tickets for the banquet will be few and far between as the hall will only seat but 240 people, according to Mr. Creswell.

At a joint meeting of the Republican Executive and Central Committees Friday afternoon in the Common Pleas Court room, five tickets were distributed to each member of the committees while those of the committees who did not attend the meeting will receive their quota of tickets by mail, with instructions to report on the sale of them Tuesday.

Tuesday, all tickets which have not been sold will be placed on sale by the banquet committee, said Mr. Creswell, but in order to be assured of a ticket, all county Republicans, who wish to attend the rally should see their own central committeeman at once.

All state Republican candidates have been invited to attend the banquet Thursday, and indications are that the rally will be unprecedented in the history of the county. The candidates will each be introduced at the banquet.

EAST SIDE 11 PLAYS LINDEN HERE SUNDAY

The East Side Athletics, stinging from a defeat administered to them by the Dayton Mascottes, two weeks ago, completed preparations for the Sunday game with Linden Center, of Dayton, and with the team work and general play much improved during the practice sessions, the Athletics are confident of annexing their first win of the season at Dickerson Park Sunday afternoon. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

This is Linden Center's initial contest of the season, but if advance notices may be taken as a criterion, the Dayton outfit will be hard to stop, as the line from end to end is composed of heavy forwards, with experience, while the backfield, although not so husky, is composed of speed merchants, two of the backs being ten second men it is said.

The locals have been practicing hard all week for this game and are in fine physical shape for the coming season. Captain Borden in the back field, is Coach Jeffery's best bet, being able to perform almost any task laid out before a pigskin performer, such as running, kicking, blocking and passing, and much will depend on how this big fellow shows up in Sunday's tussle.

The Athletics' chances of winning from the Dayton eleven are considered good, as this is the first game of the season for Linden and team work is always lacking in the first start of the year.

The Athletics were to have played the Linden outfit last Sunday here, but Linden cancelled, because they were given such short notice of the game, and were unable to equip themselves with uniforms in time for the combat.

As a result, the Athletics were idle last Sunday, and have received the benefit of two weeks practice in preparation for what is looked upon as one of the biggest games of the season.

THERE'S NO "HOT AIR" TO THIS STORY

Even though it is about a coal heater.

It was advertised for sale by Mrs. G. T. Lambert, 325 Bellbrook Avenue. It may have given off a lot of hot air—but none of it got into this story.

So we're just stating a cold fact when we say that it was sold immediately after the ad appeared.

These little ads are capable of generating a lot of heat themselves in the speed with which they get buyers for household goods—or anything at all that is for sale.

IF YOU want to warm things up around your house or place of business—just call 111 and ask for an ad-taker.

NEW SIDEWALK IS BEING CONSTRUCTED

Contract for tearing up the sidewalk along Main Street in front of the Court House, and the construction of a new one, was let Thursday to James Mullen, of this city, and work was started Friday. Two bids were received by the County Commissioners and the contract was awarded to the lowest bidder.

The sidewalk was in bad condition and the County Commissioners realizing this, approved the letting of the contract. The work will continue through next week, according to the commissioners while the sidewalk probably may not be used for several days after it is finished, in order to let the cement set.

MODISH MITZI—Mitzi Considers The New Styles.

By Jay V. Jay

There may be other things more important, but there is nothing more interesting to consider than the new evening gown. Velvet is one of the most fashionable materials. Polly is wearing it here in a gown with more than a hint of the Directoire in its short puffed sleeves.

And, of course, there are beaded frocks. Rhinestone and pearl beading are seen oftenest and there is a new decorative effect this season—paillettes—of metallic brilliance. This gown of Adelaide's shows a modish decolette and a lavish use of beads and bead tassels.

Laces are more popular than ever, if that could be! The metallic laces, the colored laces, the beaded laces are all fashionable. They are worn over chiffon chiefly although metallic slips are still seen in some striking models. Aunt Sophia's dress is black lace with dull gold flowers.

Ostrich has never been more popular than it is now. It is the favorite trimming for evening gowns, it is frequently used for trimming evening wraps and has a dozen minor usefulnesses as well. Mitzi's gown has a whole bounce of ostrich—you can see just the top of it in the sketch.

No Better Material In Any Car at Any Price

The sturdy qualities that make the good Maxwell so durable and dependable are the natural results of materials and methods of manufacture usually associated with cars of far higher price.

There are approximately 38 fast wearing parts in all automobiles. Irrespective of price there is nothing superior to the good Maxwell at those 38 points.

More expensive alloy steels are used in the good Maxwell than in many cars selling for twice or thrice as much.

Furthermore, the group of engineers who share credit for the advancement and perfection of the good Maxwell—the same group that designed the Chrysler Six—has practically eliminated all vibration. This is a refinement of operation hitherto assumed to be impossible with a four-cylinder car.

Every penny you invest in the good Maxwell will work for you overtime. It is apparent from the testimony of its owners that it is actually a better car than anything at anywhere near its price.

We are pleased to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Maxwell's attractive plan.

BUSINESS WOMEN'S CLUB HEARS TALK AT ANNIVERSARY MEET

Miss Helen Green, Antioch College, gave an interesting address before the Business and Professional Women's Club at its anniversary meeting Thursday evening in the First United Presbyterian Church parlors.

Taking for her subject "Woman's Work" she spoke of the history of women's work from pre-historic days to the present, showing how the work of the sexes has always been divided under two general groups, the man's work, militant and fiercely competitive, the woman's work industrial and upbuilding.

Man's work has always been in the arena of the battle and the hunt, and woman's has been patterned after the patient industry of the ant she said. Woman has always been the patron of the productive arts. Most of the industrial arts work is hers. It began with the fashioning of the first crude utensils for cooking. In the mastery of machinery woman has had a great part. Men were at first reluctant to leave the wider freedom of the outdoors for the closely confined work of the mills and to a very great extent women have filled these places, the speaker declared.

Women's great problem today is the complex problem of how to have a part in the great industrial system of the present day and at the same time continue the home-making. Modern machinery has given the women in the home far more leisure than ever before and this gives her opportunity for interests in community affairs and her enfranchisement has given her new political responsibilities, she said. How to best meet these new conditions and give the utmost of service is one of the questions being dealt with in a new and interesting way at Antioch College, said Miss Green. The great aim of the college training, as explained by Miss Greene, is to help every student to find the line of work for which they are best fitted and to send them equipped, trained, not merely in theory but in practice as well. At the close of her address she answered a number of questions about the work at Antioch College.

The address followed a dinner served by the women of the First United Presbyterian Church. The tables which had been arranged in "X" formation were beautifully decorated with marigolds and other late fall flowers. The occasion was the third anniversary of the founding of the local club and every table was adorned with birthday cake bearing three candles. After all were seated the candles were lighted by officers of the club. Between courses a delightful musical reading of nursery rhymes was given by Miss Helen Ford and various groups that were assembled by the matching of sliced nursery rhymes, gave little pantomime performances illustrating the rhyme they represented.

At the business session which followed the address by Miss Greene the club voted to sponsor a series of six lectures to be given by Mrs. Charlotte Reeve Conover, of Dayton, for the purpose of raising money for the benefit of the Greene County Library.

The club also voted to take up the sale of a very fine brand of tea imported direct from China, and picked by Chinese boys who are struggling to secure an education.

Interesting reports of a recent executive meeting held in Columbus, were given by Miss Faye Ledbetter and Miss Ella Ambuhl.

Mrs. Ridgley Torrence, a well known author, who writes under the pen name of Olivia Dunbar, has sailed for home after spending about six months abroad and is expected to land in New York next week. Mr. Torrence who has been in California and Xenia, is returning to New York in time to greet her upon her arrival. Mrs. Torrence has been in Algiers and more recently in France.

BEST MEASURE FOR LOCAL BUSINESS AS TOLD BY R. W. BABSON

Babson Park, Mass., Oct. 16, 1924.—Any community's willingness to buy—and ability to pay—can be accurately estimated in advance, according to Roger W. Babson, who today described a relatively new and most interesting business barometer.

"Most business men face a sales problem," says the statistician, "but since goods must be sold in specific localities information on general business conditions is not specific enough to help select the best field for the sales effort. To overcome this difficulty certain of my associates have been working for three years in an effort to find a reliable yard stick by which future sales possibilities for any territory or locality may be estimated in advance. They have found such a barometer in the trend of the volume of local business as reflected in total bank transactions.

"Communities prove to be a lot like individuals when it comes to money matters. If your income is 20 per cent greater than it was last year—and is increasing—you are optimistic and in the mood to buy many of the things you have wanted for a long time. Your purchasing power is greater by one fifth but your prosperity complex makes you twice as good a prospect for anything you may be able to use. Again, if we assume that your income is 10 per cent less than it was last year we find a different situation. You feel poor, you are economizing and while your actual purchasing power has been reduced but one tenth your resistance to a sales appeal has doubled and trebled. It is almost impossible to sell you anything that you can get along without. It is much the same with cities. The totals of 'Debts to Individual Accounts' reported by the banks represent the community pocket-book. Increases over the same month mean that most people are getting larger incomes. Decreases spell smaller incomes. When business is on the increase the locality takes on an atmosphere of prosperity. 'Good times' become contagious and everyone buys briskly. Likewise a decline has its effect upon the psychology of the entire community.

"If we get the monthly figures for any city and compare them with the same month of the previous year we get a percentage figure that represents an increase or decrease. By testing these percentage figures for consecutive months we can determine the trend for our city—a trend that indicates clearly the psychology of its citizens and measures the general sales resistance to be met there. A city, for instance, that shows readings of 105 per cent, 95 per cent and 90 per cent for three months offers a relatively poor immediate market while one that shows an upward trend of 85, 92 and 97 per cent offers a relatively active market for immediate sales.

"Should you require an estimate on local business from three to four months in advance this single barometer of 'Trend of Transactions' can be supplemented with a study of sources of income which will give an inkling of probable trend. We find, for instance that 95 per cent of the total income of North Dakota comes from crops and live stock. The trend of prices for these will indicate the future trend of local business in North Dakota. If you are selling to small towns or to farmers you find, for instance, that the first ten ranking states in value of agricultural and live stock products are: (1) Texas, (2) Iowa, (3) Illinois, (4) California, (5) New York, (6) North Carolina, (7) Pennsylvania, (8) Kansas, (9) Ohio, (10) Wisconsin. These offer the largest markets and benefit most by increases in agricultural income. Analyzing sources of income we find that crops and live stock represent the following proportion of income in these states:

(1) North Dakota, 95 per cent; (2) South Dakota, 94 per cent; (3) Nebraska, 82 per cent; (4) Iowa 79 per cent; (5) Mississippi, 78 per cent; (6) Arkansas, 77 per cent; (7) South Carolina 74 per cent; (8) Idaho, 73 per cent; (9) Texas, 70 per cent; (10) Kansas, 69 per cent; (11) Oklahoma, 61 per cent. These states do not represent the largest markets for goods and services sold to the agricultural community but they are most directly affected by changes in the prices of farm products.

"Mail order sales offer an additional barometer on the trend of agricultural sales. A jump from 94 to 108 per cent in monthly comparisons already reflects the increased buying due to recent price increases for wheat, corn and cotton. Wholesale distribution does not reflect this increase as yet because the local merchants are selling goods they already have on hand. Increases of mail order sales promise a corresponding increase in wholesale sales to local merchants a month or two later.

"With general business rather slow—the Babsonchart shows current activity at 14 per cent below normal—competition will be keen this fall. The astute business man will measure and locate his market—then watch the trend of each locality. By concentrating on the most fertile fields he will be able to sell at a good profit while his competitors flounder with high sales costs and slow collections. "If you want to estimate future business and sales possibilities in any locality compare the 'Debts to Individual Accounts' supplied by its banks with the same month of last year and note the trend of these percentage figures."

ABIE'S IRISH ROSE WILL PLAY AT OPERA HOUSE THREE DAYS

An attraction that is, and has been, commanding the attention of theatergoers throughout the country for the past two years, and unless all signs fail will continue to do so, is Anne Nichols' history-making comedy success, "Abie's Irish Rose," which the Standard Amusement Company has secured for an engagement at the Opera House, October 27, 28, and 29 with a matinee, October 27. It is believed the attraction will prove the most important event in the city's theatrical history.

The inability to take care of the crowds anxious to see and laugh at "Abie," in the customary period of theatrical engagements, is only what has taken place in every city in which it has been presented. As a rule, week following is rolled up with a regularly which has shattered every known record run on this continent, and made the big producing managers of New York gasp with amazement and envy. After all, in the last analysis, there is nothing to be amazed at in considering the reason for the phenomenal success of "Abie's Irish Rose," for give the public what they want, with a persistence enough to demand it, and it follows that the ordinary law of supply and demand must be fulfilled.

In her play, Miss Nichols follows the line of least resistance. She believed the present day theatergoers wanted amusement of a clean, wholesome order, and she endeavored to supply this demand. Bed-room farce had had its day, sex-problem plays had been overworked even from a humorous angle, mystery plays were a glut on the market. What remained? Why not a few pages from everyday life as millions live and know it? Introduce characters with strong dominating racial differences, expressing their individual viewpoint of thought and life; introduce human heart interest, love's young dream, love of family, sacrifice, then embellish all these ingredients with dialogue of brilliant wit and infectious humor, involve everybody in a whirl of hilarious complications, and what is the result? A tornado of mirth and a Niagara of laughter—Such is "Abie's Irish Rose."

"B" DIVISION ENTERS ANTIOCH COLLEGE IN RECORD NUMBER

(By Jack Thompson)

Yellow Springs, O., Oct. 18.—The largest number of students yet enrolled in Antioch college, entered with "B" Division Monday. They total 207 men and seventy-one women, making a total of 278 students for the division, signed up or more than twice the enrollment of the whole college three years ago. There are 571 students in all divisions at the present.

Ohio has the most representatives with 165, New York second with seventy-four and Massachusetts third with thirty-eight. Fifty and eight tenths per cent of the entire number come from the North Central states, and the next largest number comes from the Atlantic states with 22.9 per cent. China has three representatives, and two members of the American colony at Shanghai; Russia has three, as has Ireland, while Belgium, Brazil, Chile, Cuba, France, Peru each claim one student.

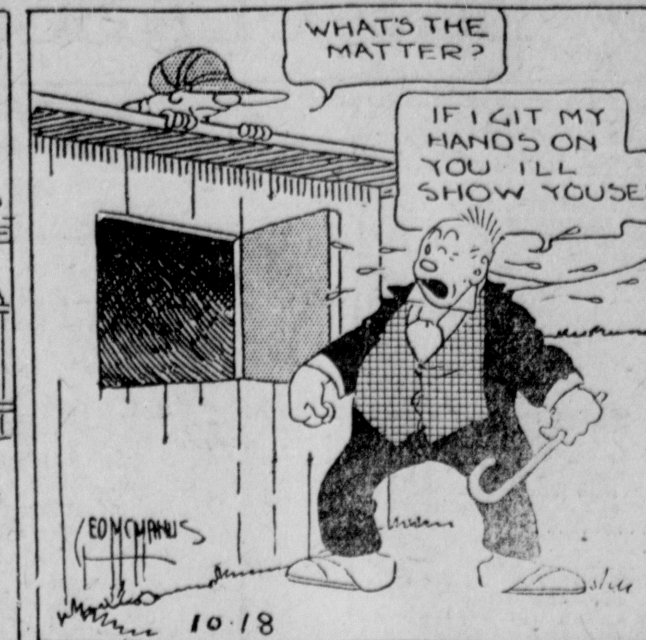

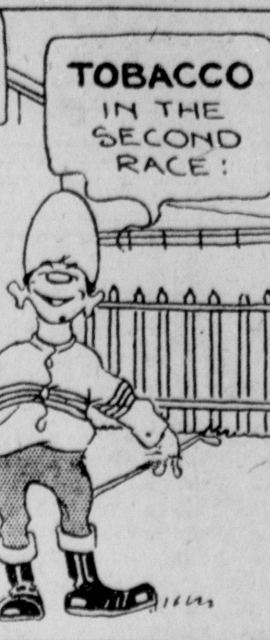

Four students from Springfield, and twenty-nine from Dayton are enrolled this period. The evening of registration day, a reception was held in the gymnasium, for the new students. Several members of the faculty spoke, and a quintette consisting of Prof. Frayne, The three Davitt brothers and Roderic O'Connor, all of whom came from Ireland, sang the "Wearing of the Green" with true Gaelic fervor. This was followed by dancing.

PAJAMA PARADE

Yellow Springs, O., Oct. 18.—On Wednesday night, the sophomore class of Antioch College marched the whole freshman class, clad in pajamas, through the streets of Yellow Springs. The parade convened in front of the women's dormitory and wound its way to the Rialto theatre, where a performance was in progress. Each frosh had to pay the way of some upperclass man, while he was admitted free himself. The parade then took possession of the show, and the audience was entertained by the first yearmen.

The biggest hit was scored by William Petertyl, who played several numbers on a home made violin, fashioned out of a cigar box. Percy Warner, also a frosh, gave an amusing talk, comparing the sophomore class to the neanderthal man, and other atavistic peoples. The whole class sang and gave several yells, and the Dean spoke to the assembly. The parade then retired to the balcony and the show went on as was scheduled.

BRINGING UP FATHER

The Truant Soul

By Victor Rousseau

He swung upon his heel and went out of the room, leaving her gripping the table fiercely in her humiliation. The dark-haired girl, who had been fussing in a corner, came up to her.

"He's a beast!" she exclaimed passionately. "He hates women—decent women. My! If he'd dared to speak that way to me I'd have told him what I thought of him, right in the middle of the operation. I don't care for anybody when my temper's up. I could tell you a few things I've heard about him if I were minded to. Do you know he went on a five years' spree once?"

"I don't care what he did!" cried Joan passionately.

"Well, I guess you could make it your business to know," answered the other. "A girl's got to fight her way, the same as a man. He threw up his job and just went away for five years, drinking and living with tramps, and then had the nerve to come back as if nothing had happened. I got it from a girl that used to be friendly with him. He's—"

She broke off abruptly as the orderly appeared with his rubber broom and bucket.

"What are you going to do about it?" inquired the girl in a low voice. "I reckon you don't want to forfeit your diploma any more than the rest of us. Listen! You go and see him."

"Never!" said Joan.

"Don't be a fool, Miss Wentworth! You go and see him at his house. It's what anyone would do in your place. Fool himself making him think he can do what he likes with you; play with him and hold him off by hook or crook until you're graduated, and then laugh at him. I'd do it if I had to. My! If you heard some of the stories that are going round—"

The head nurse beckoned at the door. "The lady superintendent wants to see you at once, Miss Wentworth," she said. "You're to go right into her office."

She looked at Joan resentfully. Her face was quite composed again, but her eyes were reddened. She knew that Lancaster had been at fault, but she had seen Joan's blunder, too. Miss Symons was one of those women who can acquire the faculty of a man's strength without losing their own sex. She was a tower of strength toward weakness, but she had no pity for a lapse of duty.

Joan walked the dreary length of the corridor to the lady superintendent's room. The white-haired woman was seated at her desk, pretending to be making up her accounts and composing herself for the interview.

"Miss Wentworth!" she began, turning round in her chair as Joan appeared at the door. "You have made Doctor Lancaster very angry. He said you are totally inefficient. What was it that happened this morning?"

"The ether made me faint and I couldn't see the instruments for a moment, and Doctor Lancaster happened to want a scalpel quickly," answered Joan.

"Well, it's a great pity," said the other, "because it was your first day and we had to get somebody to take Miss Martin's place and I selected you because I relied on you particularly. Anyway, you are suspended."

Joan looked at her stupefied. "You mean—that I am to leave the hospital and lose my diploma?" she asked.

"I don't know yet," answered the lady superintendent evasively. "I suppose Doctor Lancaster will decide that later after he has laid the matter before the board at their next meeting and looked over your record. Anyway, Miss Wentworth, you may as well take a holiday for a week or so until you hear from us."

She turned back to her books while Joan, after looking at her for a moment in silence, turned and went into the corridor. She made her way toward the hospital entrance. And the great wooden arch, through which she had passed hundreds of times without noticing it, suddenly became vivid with detail; the hospital, which had been a part of her unconscious life, looked strange and new to her.
